CHEMICAL MACE FACT SHEET

SECTION 1. MEDICAL CONSIDERATIONS

1. Q. I have heard that Chemical Agent (CN) used in CHEMICAL MACE® must be absorbed into the blood stream to be effective. Is there any truth to this report?
 - A. On the contrary, all evidence indicates that CS and not CN finds its way into the blood stream. At this time there is no data available to indicate the long term medical effects of this condition on the human body.

SECTION 2. TACTICAL EMPLOYMENT

23. Q. Will CHEMICAL MACE® work on every occasion?

- A. There is no product which is guaranteed to function 100% of the time. Given the variables connected with the application of any aerosol product in tactical situations, the user should always be prepared to employ another means of self-defense to protect his or her life and well being.

12. Q. What is the effective range of a CHEMICAL MACE® Unit?

- A. On the average the effective range of a CHEMICAL MACE® unit is six (6) feet with the maximum range being from ten to twelve feet in calm air.

13. Q. How much CHEMICAL MACE® should be fired at an assailant?

- A. One second burst of CHEMICAL MACE® is sufficient to incapacitate the average person.

14. Q. At what target should a MACE® unit be aimed?

- A. The MACE® formulation should be aimed at the chin area of the assailant. The user should not be encouraged to purposely aim at the attackers eyes, since any liquid under pressure has the potential to cause eye damage.

15. Q. Should CHEMICAL MACE® be used against multiple assailants?

- A. CHEMICAL MACE® is a weapon which was designed for one to one confrontations. Like any weapon it achieves its best results when it is properly aimed by a trained individual. In multiple assailant situations it is best to single out the ring leader. If possible, and incapacitate him. Wild or random firing of the device could easily cause incapacitation to innocent bystanders as well as the user.

16. Q. I have heard a report that CHEMICAL MACE® will be effective against bears, dogs, etc. Is this true?

- A. No. CHEMICAL MACE® employs chemical agent CN which is a lacrimating agent directly affecting the lacrimal glands near the eyes. As bears, dogs, etc. do not possess the same eye structure as human beings, the principal value of the aerosol to temporarily interfere with vision is lost.

WARNING: Leaving chemical agents unattended on the skin may result in first or second degree burns.

5. Q. What is the first aid for chemical agent contamination?

- A. As spray aerosols are available in either CS or CN formulations, it is necessary to consider both applications. The recommended basic first aid for either chemical agent is simple water flushing. This will serve to remove the crystals from the skin surface. If water is not readily available, merely stand in an open area facing whatever wind is blowing.

- b. When utilizing water flushing on a person who wears contact lenses, make certain to remove these devices prior to flushing the eye.
- c. Always remove contaminated clothing as this will continue to emit chemical agent vapors if saturated. Contaminated clothing should be washed or dry cleaned as appropriate prior to reuse.
- d. Never rub an affected area as this merely grinds the agent into the skin itself.
- e. Never apply salves or creams to the affected areas. This would only trap the agent against the skin surface.
- f. Water flushing of CS formulations will result in a secondary burning sensation to the skin.

- g. Leaving chemical agents unattended on the skin may result in first or second degree burns.

6. Q. What is the medical danger of being sprayed "up the nostrils" or directly into the mouth with a chemical aerosol?

- A. If CS or CN actually reach the oral or upper respiratory mucosa the effects can be severely painful and most often instantly disabling.

7. Q. Do spray aerosol products directly affect the breathing of an individual exposed to the formulation?

- A. CHEMICAL MACE® will produce a psychological shortness of breath which is induced through the individuals attempt to limit air input into the lungs. This condition may be aggravated by a sense of anxiety or apprehension which normally devolves among individuals possessing limited knowledge on the overall effects of chemical agents.

8. Q. What is the medical danger of being sprayed "up the nostrils" or directly into the mouth with a chemical aerosol?

- A. The medical danger of being sprayed "up the nostrils" or directly into the mouth with a chemical aerosol?
 - A. On the contrary, all evidence indicates that CS and not CN finds its way into the blood stream. At this time there is no data available to indicate the long term medical effects of this condition on the human body.

9. Q. How long does it take a spray aerosol to incapacitate an assailant?

- A. Independent laboratory reports indicate that CN formulations incapacitate in 1-5 seconds. Other aerosol irritants such as CS take as long as 2-30 seconds unless they reach the immediate vicinity of the eyes.

10. Q. How long does it take a spray aerosol to incapacitate an assailant?

- A. Independent laboratory reports indicate that CN formulations incapacitate in 1-5 seconds. Other aerosol irritants such as CS take as long as 2-30 seconds unless they reach the immediate vicinity of the eyes.

11. Q. What are the advantages of a CN aerosol?

- A. CN formulation aerosols offer the individual user greater freedom of action and reliability in tactical situations. Compared to other products on the market CHEMICAL MACE® provides essential advantages in the following areas:

12. Q. ACCURACY —

- A. The user need only hit the chin area of the assailant to obtain a quick incapacitation. The CS requirement for hitting the immediate vicinity of the eyes, can prove difficult in stress situations.

13. Q. SPEED OF ACTION —

- A. Because of its high vapor pressure CN formulation CHEMICAL MACE® will incapacitate within 1-5 seconds. This is the fastest time of any aerosol agent available that is not sprayed in the immediate vicinity of the eyes. It should be noted that CN sprayed directly into the eyes, although not recommended, will also provide immediate incapacitation.

14. Q. If the first application of the product does not halt the assailant what should I do?

- A. In the case where the first burst of MACE® does not stop the assailant, the user should fire several more bursts at the chin area if, and only if, the first application did not strike this target. As time could be of critical importance in this situation, the user should be trained not to panic and to employ a supplemental means of self-defense if necessary.

15. Q. How long does it take a spray aerosol to incapacitate an assailant?

- A. Independent laboratory reports indicate that CN formulations incapacitate in 1-5 seconds. Other aerosol irritants such as CS take as long as 2-30 seconds unless they reach the immediate vicinity of the eyes.

21. Q. What are the advantages of a CN aerosol?

- A. CN formulation aerosols offer the individual user greater freedom of action and reliability in tactical situations. Compared to other products on the market CHEMICAL MACE® provides essential advantages in the following areas:

22. Q. ACCURACY —

- A. The user need only hit the chin area of the assailant to obtain a quick incapacitation. The CS requirement for hitting the immediate vicinity of the eyes, can prove difficult in stress situations.

23. Q. Will CHEMICAL MACE® work on every occasion?

- A. An individual who is under the influence of Drugs or Alcohol may not be in complete control of his senses. As such he may react in an unpredictable manner towards any type of pain. It is known that under these circumstances the body will experience the full effects of any chemical aerosol. But that the normal reaction expected may be delayed. As noted earlier, the user should always be prepared to employ another means of self-defense whether he or she is using a CHEMICAL MACE® unit or some other product.

COUP DE GRACE

1984. This year saw at its beginning the inception of Coup De Grace, an organization formed to release graphics, text, sound, and other media, all focused towards specific ideas. Some of these ideas are obvious, others are hidden. It is for the viewer or witness to discover and interpret these ideas.

One of the main C.D.G. projects in 1984 was the design and production of a series of flyers. Each flyer with its own message, but all somehow related. These flyers are now all out-of-print, but they have been reduced and reprinted here in this report. C.D.G. will continue to sporadically release new flyers in the future.

In early June the first "official" C.D.G. product was released. This was a small booklet, titled 'The Final Incision', which consisted solely of graphics, contributed by friends and allies. While in many ways a flawed effort, the booklet definitely contained some worthwhile material. A limited numbered edition of 123, it is now deleted.

Throughout the year C.D.G. also worked on sound material. Using simple but powerful processes, the ideas of C.D.G. were effectively transformed into audio. All of this material has been compiled onto a cassette titled "Commencement/Corpse Education". It contains everything C.D.G. has recorded in 1984, in chronological order. It will be released on January 17th, 1985. The cassette represents the first stage of the C.D.G. sound, and is being released primarily as a historical document.

On December 15th, C.D.G. performed live for the first time. The show took place at the Innersleeve Gallery and consisted of backing tapes with live percussion and vocals. Fire and metal clashed. Three tracks were done: "Warning Shots", "Aufziehen", and "Coup". Despite equipment failures the show went over well. Hopefully a tape of the performance will be released in 1985. Future C.D.G. live events are also being planned...

WE HAVE SURVIVED THE FIRST YEAR, BUT IMPACT HAS NOT YET BEEN MADE. THOSE WHO NEED TO BE REACHED HAVE NOT YET BEEN CORNERED. THE WAR IS ON. NOT MUCH TIME IS LEFT. IT IS NOT A GAME. PLANS MUST BE PUT INTO ACTION. IT IS A CONSCIOUS EFFORT. THE INFECTION SPREADS. NOTHING CAN STAND IN OUR WAY. ALL OUR ENERGY MUST BE FOCUSED. THERE IS NO PLACE FOR DILUTED IDEAS OR ACTS.

COUP DE GRACE. 1984.
